

Hi Daddy

Clara Ordonez

Hi Daddy, it's me,
Your baby girl in the sky.
Won't you tell me Daddy,
why does my Mommy cry?
Doesn't she know I'm happy here,
Heaven is a beautiful place
Oh, how it hurts me, Daddy
To see tears streaming down Mommy's face.
Daddy, tell her I'm much better here,
Jesus fixed my heart.
But when I see Mommy crying,
It just about tears it apart.
I know it hurt you both, Daddy,
When Jesus took me away.
But you and mommy remember,
We'll be together again someday.
I can't wait to hug you,
I never got the chance before.
When it's time for you to come,
I'll be waiting at Heaven's door.
Then you'll both understand,
Jesus knew where I needed to be.
What a marvelous place to live,
Just wait and you both shall see.
Please let my Mommy know, Daddy,
That I heard every word she said.
And I remember her softly touching me
As I lay in that hospital bed.
Just one more thing, Daddy,
Before I have to go,
I love you both very much
And just wanted you to know.
